

LEELA FOUNDATION QUARTERLY REPORT

CALENDAR YEAR 2024 | QUARTER 2

SUMMARY

US shares gained in Q2, led higher by the information technology and communication services sectors. Ongoing enthusiasm around AI continued to boost related companies amid some strong earnings. Strength in some Asian markets helped emerging market equities outperform developed markets in Q2. The quarter commenced on a disappointing note for global bond markets, spurred by renewed concerns about US inflation. Amidst this climate, Leela's endowment performed well, registering a return of 9.34%.
